

ISLAND HOPPING IN THE PACIFIC

Directions: After entering World War II, America developed a plan for defeating Japan known as "Island Hopping" to gain military bases and secure the many small islands in the Pacific. Cut out and color this map then label the key islands the US "hopped" to and provide details in the boxes about the battles there.

